We would like to thank all of the participants of the conference Contexts 2015 for their support which made this initiative possible. We wish this cause to be the beginning of a tradition that would serve as a landmark for similar actions on the following Contexts. We would like this to be a message for the academia and public - to shed a light on the fact that we can make a difference and help to develop our society and better life-quality as individuals, with everyone contributing little by little.
